Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U. S.C. 102(e) that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. Claims 1, 4-12, 14-16, 18-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Parathasarathy et al. with Patent Number 6,347,398.

3. Regarding claim(s) 1, 10, 19, Parathasarathy teaches using a computer network to download software to a user. Parathasarathy teaches providing a user interface to allow a user to identify a device and locating the interface at the device for the user, col. 7, lines 26-31.

Parathasarathy teaches identifying or offering a particular device via an interface, col. 7, lines 58-61. Parathasarathy teaches accessing software specific to the device, col. 7, lines 37-43.

Parathasarathy teaches storing the software and making the software available to the user, col. 8, lines 13-17. Parathasarathy teaches a first server and a software server in communication to download software, col. 14, 15, lines 21-23, 39-47.

4. Regarding claim(s) 4-5, 11-12, 14, Parathasarathy teaches automatically accessing and storing the software, col. 8, lines 14-15.

5. Regarding claim(s) 6, Parathasarathy teaches connecting to a global network, col. 7, line 9.

Art Unit: 2141

6. Regarding claim(s) 7, 16, 22, Parathasarathy teaches the software is associated with an address and connecting to said address based on the selected device or software desires, col. 8, lines 31-34.
7. Regarding claim(s) 8, 23, Parathasarathy teaches locations of retail sales, page 2, lines 22-23.
8. Regarding claim(s) 9, 15, 18, Parathasarathy teaches providing electronic copies on disk of the software, col. 4, lines 39-40, col. 9, lines 41-42.
9. Regarding claim(s) 20-21, Parathasarathy teaches a plurality of stations and servers as the Internet, col. 18, lines 59-63.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103 and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2141

3. Claims 2-3, 13, 17, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parathasarathy et al. with Patent Number 6,347,398.

4. Regarding claims 2-3, 13, 17, the Parathasarathy patent discloses the method of the preceding claims. The Parathasarathy patent does not explicitly disclose legacy menus of software devices and manufacturers to choose desired software products by touch. However, Official Notice is taken MPEP 2144.03 (a)) that menus to touch select software products are well known in the art to insure the desired software is obtained. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the application's invention to provide touch menu selections of software products to obtain the advantages of a user friendly application. By the above rational, the claim is rejected.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure is disclosed in the Notice of References Cited. A close review of the references is suggested. A close review of the Johnson reference with Patent Number 5,923,885 and Fulton reference with Patent Number 6,772,192 are suggested. The other references cited teach numerous other ways to adapt RSVP to wireless networks, thus a close review of them is suggested.
